

Make the Most of Your Summer – Free AI Skills Course

Dear Students,

The summer break is an excellent opportunity to develop new skills that will strengthen your professional profile and enhance your competitiveness in the job market.

We would like to encourage you to take advantage of the free New Futures: AI programme, designed to help participants develop practical skills in the use of artificial intelligence in the workplace. The course is based on real-life professional scenarios across a range of sectors, including administration, finance, business operations, marketing, and information technology.

For law students, the ability to use AI tools effectively is becoming an increasingly valuable professional competence. These technologies can support legal research, document analysis, legal drafting, information retrieval, workflow organisation, and many other everyday tasks performed by modern legal professionals. Today, employers are looking not only for graduates with strong legal knowledge, but also for those who can confidently work with emerging digital technologies.

The programme is:

- completely free of charge,
- fully online,
- self-paced, allowing you to learn whenever it suits you,
- open to everyone, with no previous AI knowledge or technical background required.

You can start at any time and complete the course at your own pace throughout the summer.

If you would like to use the summer break to gain practical, future-oriented skills that will benefit you during your studies, internships, and future legal career, we encourage you to register.
